The Conductor Says:—

10 CENTS

I conduct the Limited.

Every day my train runs crowded with big men—and many a good tip they've given me.

One of the best was "Helmar" Turkish Cigarettes.

Before I smoked "Helmar" I wondered why so many wealthy men smoke a 10c cigarette.

My first "Helmar" convinced me.

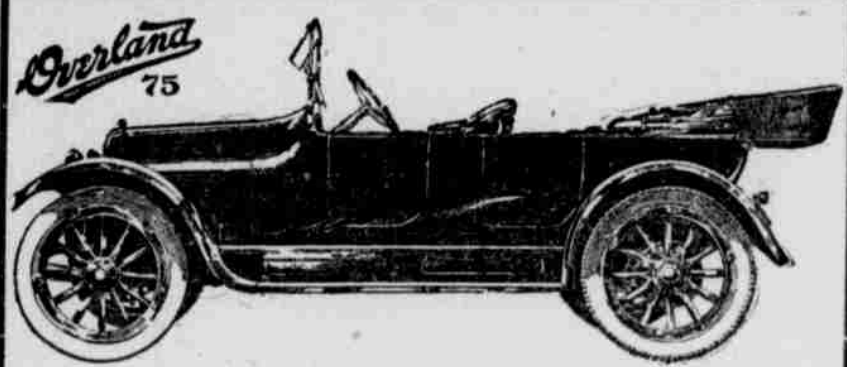

The mildest tobacco for cigarettes is Turkish.

The best tobacco for cigarettes is Turkish.

Don't pay ten cents for anybody's cigarette until you have tried "Helmar," a fascinating, elevating, gentleman's smoke.

Growth of Baby Bonds.

In the May American Magazine Merle Crowell describes the "baby bond" which is comparatively new in this country although fairly well established in Europe. "When several sound American corporations finally decided to split some of their $1,000 bonds up into $100 pieces they blazed a trail that has grown rapidly into a national highway. The 'baby' bond idea has swept the country, and today farmers, blacksmiths, ministers, school teachers, clerks, policemen, and members of other equally non-plutocratic professions are able to clip coupons and talk glibly of 'our corporation.' A Wall Street man specializing in 'baby' bonds told me recently that his firm had customers in 43 of the 48 states. He showed me an incomplete list of their occupations; it included nearly every trade, profession or hobby of which I had ever heard, and at least a dozen about which I was distinctly hazy."
